ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE

In class on the last Sunday of the month I saw a literal sign and wonder...

I asked God to give confirmation of His blessing on a change in my schedule, and that He would redeem the time. I walk and pray in the back as people come in until 2:15 to begin class, and time it by the clock on the back wall. During the time of encounter I use my cell phone to check the time as I have my glasses off and cannot see the clock on the wall. When we were all done sharing after the encounter, I put on my glasses, and the clock on the wall said it was shortly after 3! I knew it was 4....I looked at my cell phone again and it was just after 4....Everyone was amazed because the clock was ticking as we got close like everything was normal, but time in that room had stood still for about an hour!

It caused a trembling in the reality that God is not bound by time, and that He literally redeems the time as we take time to listen to His Voice! Luke 18:8 is about listening.

The next day I told everyone that it was the last Monday class. Often I have said I love teaching the class so much, I wish I could do it every day. Since the Contemplative room has opened, I am longing to teach and to DO that which I am teaching. I have been aching for more personal heart encounter, and with this new schedule it will happen. I can stay an extra hour in Global Prayer room and have an extra hour in the contemplative room each week day.

I explained to those who we're in class that the classes are for them to be propelled into the secret place for themselves. The class is a simple on ramp for that sustaining time alone. Now we have the next step in place with the contemplative room. I want others to be compelled to be with Him more and more. Jesus is closer than your skin, and many who have felt abandoned and alone due to the cares of life are beginning to experience encounter as reality. There have been visitors from New Guinea, Romania, Korea, China, Switzerland, Brazil, Japan, Germany and many other countries who have been impacted by His Love.

 THAT IS ACTUALLY EVERYTHING NEEDED...JUST IN TIME!

On the second page I will share a personal revelation that came during a time of encounter. Sometimes what we need is right in the midst of what we have been looking at for a long time. One day we will all have to find Him within because everything around us will try to convince us He does not exist. Listening to His voice of love will grant us courage and confidence to open ours when it's our time to speak.

ENCOUNTERING CHRIST WITHIN, as a lifestyle...

Last week I was sitting still, positioning my heart to listen, and there was so much wrestling on the inside that the resounding silence seemed like a 5:00 traffic jam. I knew I had to listen carefully to what God was saying, so I could discern what He was not! Listening is a means of showing honor, and I want to hear His Voice so mine will have eternal impact when others listen to me. I have been praying through John 17 and verse 17 has really caught my attention. Jesus is praying and He says, “Sanctify them in truth, Your word is truth.” The question “what is truth” is still being asked, by those inside the church walls, as well as those outside. Jesus only did what He ‘saw’ Father doing. He looked to see what God was saying, just like Habakkuk. Sometimes we pull scriptures out to make them personal, today I saw a verse I pray often over myself was actually talking about Jesus. He made listening personal! Isaiah 50:4 says, “The Lord God has given Me the tongue of disciples that I may know how to sustain the weary one with a word. He awakens My ear to listen as a disciple!” This is a prophetic declaration about JESUS. Jesus took time to listen! He was awakened to listen. Jesus knew listening was important, and He took time to listen to what was on His Father’s heart before opening His own mouth. Psalm 32:8 says He will guide us with His eye. We too need to look and see what is being spoken by the situations and relationships surrounding us. There is a language void of words that only our hearts can understand, and it is resounding with truth. Silence is not passive. In the quiet we are awakened. Encountering Christ within, stopping to be still on the inside, will bring new permanence and value to what is going to be coming out of our mouths, and lives. Please view the invitation to be still and know Him as a mandate for your heart as you wrestle to hear His voice amidst so much vying for your attention. As I recognized the wrestling was going to be a continual factor, peace overwhelmed me. I sat to just be with Him and in a whisper He granted insight into that word I had looked at many times. May your eyes be opened to hear His Voice in the month ahead. There is rest found in the wRESTling, and it is hidden right in the middle of it! Keep looking at what is right in front of you, and that which is hidden will be highlighted to awaken your heart and you will see what He is saying. He is the Living Word indeed!

AND THE HUNGRY SOUL HE FILLS WITH GOOD THINGS.
PSALM 107:9

I went out with Lisa and the Twins to celebrate my birthday. We went to watch Valerie in a parade with her Daisy troop, and then to the petting zoo. Afterwards we ate together. The day went by really fast. It was so much fun to be with them, and a true day of celebration of love for my heart! Phoenix and Valerie are both so smart and fun to be with. Lisa has begun her studies to be an RN, and is doing well. God is so good to me!
