

WOW The tracks of His Love

Not sure how both the free will of man and the sovereignty of God are true, but the Bible declares it to be so.

There is no contradiction with God even in the reality of seemingly so many in this life.

He showed me you on golden railroad tracks, both side rails separate and distinct from each other, yet running parallel and held by silver rods in between. You are as an old steam locomotive moving along...the destination determined before this journey began.

You enter a covered bridge and in that place you begin to take up speed and there is a shaking and trembling on the well oiled wheels that are carrying you.

As you exit into the brilliance of the shining sun.....the track you are on has become a mono rail, and the speed continues to increase.

Romans 11:36 for from Him and through Him and to Him are all things!
